

BASIC PHYSICAL DEFENSE INSTRUCTOR CERTIFICATION

Rape Aggression Defense Systems is the largest women's physical self-defense network in the country today. R.A.D. Systems courses are taught at various colleges, universities, and other community organizations throughout the United States, Canada, and abroad. R.A.D. Systems is also the only self-defense program ever endorsed by the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators (IACLEA).

Participants in this RAD Instructor's Course will be certified, upon successful completion of the program, to teach the R.A.D. Systems Basic Physical Defense for Women. This intense 3 day, 30 hour Instructor Certification Program is a cost effective way to obtain your own self-defense Instructor(s) and offer this program to the women in your community. This course is the most comprehensive program of its kind – and now your agency can utilize the basic tailored format as a part of your overall crime prevention and education package.

Our Instructor Certification Program is dynamic. The course is taught in a relaxed environment that is conducive to learning our tested instructional techniques, tactics, and unique insights into the problem of violence against women. Our program includes physical defense workouts for technique development and includes an exercise that is designed to empower women to practice what they have learned about confrontational situations.

Tuition for this program is $450.00 ($350.00 for IACLEA members). Registration includes all program materials, a 125+ page instructor's curriculum and, upon successful completion, a certificate. Once registration is received, you will receive more specific information on location and lodging. To register for this course, please complete the form and email it to the email address below.
